

Python is a high level programming language.

Django is a web framework built with Python.

Flask is a lightweight web framework for Python.

FastAPI is a modern framework for building APIs.

Pandas is a library for data analysis in Python.